

We are a Wilderness Guide Association (WGA) certified training institute with a highly experienced team of qualified instructors who have great passion for their work.

Personal growth, respect for people and nature, self-awareness, proactivity and learning by trial and error are some of our key values. We believe we are all learning every day, both instructors and students and therefore prefer a positive learning curve above judging and rating students on a specific moment. It is all about consciousness and attitude, all the rest is secondary.

Our international network is growing every day, both on a professional and personal level, would you like to join us on our journey?

The EWES team.
